

By airing "Stolen Honor", an anti-Kerry and biased program so closely to the election, Sinclair Broadcasting will be abusing their right to use public airways. Electioneering by a large company that controls a significant amount of our airwaves is a direct affront to democracy. I urge the FCC to take immediate action and stop Sinclair from airing programs like this that have obvious political agendas. If the FCC believes they have the right to air politically biased programs, then they should be required to air documentaries that represent an opposing view (like "Going Upriver") immediately afterwards or during a similar prime time slot. Anything else would be to allow them to use public airwaves to try and affect the elections.

For the FCC to sit by and let this happen would be outrageous. Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. Sinclair Broadcasting should lose their license if they engage in this activity.

Thank you.
